VOL 32, NO. 4

CAMPBELL, SANTA CLARA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA.

FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1926.

Pushing a soft team of horses to their limit is not the best way to get the most work out of them.

Total potato shipments from Kern county are estimated at 650 cars, with yields averaging around 125 sacks to the acre.

Work has started packing apples at the J. F. Miller & Sons' plant at Healdsburg. The plum packing is about over.

A good vegetable garden is not difficult to handle. It furnishes a necessity in the family diet and an aid to the grocery bill.

Frank Clark of Laytonville, Mendocino county, has shipped four carloads of lambs to Indiana. The shipment consisted of fine young stock.

The grape season at Clovis has opened nearly twenty days in advance of previous years, due to the warm weather. The first car left Clovis July 5.

Cotton men report plenty of squares setting on the cotton around Woodville, Tulare county, and from all indications a good yield will be produced.

Tulare county will have no shortage of hay this season, according to report. This is declared to have been one of the best haying years on record for some time.

Scale is earlier than usual in the Whittier-Riviera district and consequently fumigation here began early in July, according to the horticultural inspector at Riviera.

Headed for eastern markets, the first carload of green pears to leave Hayward this season was shipped out recently from the warehouse of the Farm Products Sales company.

The Atlas Vineyard company near Woodville, Tulare county, is starting upon the harvest of their eighty acres of peaches. Ben H. Clark, manager, has made arrangements to deliver the crop to a Tulare cannery. He expects to harvest about 3,000 tons of fruit this season.

Predictions of a grape tonnage twice as large as that of last year for the Fontana district have been made by the directors of the Fontana Grape Growers' Exchange. The 5,000 acres of irrigated vineyards are making an excellent showing, although many of them are quite young.

Forty-eight per cent of the 125,000-000 pounds of milk fat produced in California last year went into the manufacture of butter, according to figures given in the statistical report of California Dairy Products for 1925 being sent out by the California department of Agriculture.

The board of supervisors of Grass Valley, Nevada county, have been requested by a large number of land owners to create a pest control district to assist in the battle against the pine beetle, spread of which is feared unless drastic measures are taken. Action is expected at an early meeting.

The Orland apricot growers through their associations sold to Libby, McNeill and Libby 100 tons of fresh fruit and also shipped over forty-five tons of fresh fruit. Many of the largest growers are drying their crop. The prices for both dried and fresh fruit are bringing a good profit to the growers.

Inspection of strawberry test plots in the county by agricultural students has been started by M. J. Moniz, county strawberry contest leader, and Ernest Howalter, strawberry grower of Sebastopol. Philip Becklund, county agricultural teacher, is assisting the students in arranging their strawberry beds.

Henry A. Preusser of Red Bluff, has contracted for 500 tons of dried peaches at 12 1/2 cents a pound, a record price for the growers of Tehama county to receive. It is a half a cent more than the top price last year, and orchardists are gratified over the favorable turn in the market for their dried products.

One of the largest and finest hog ranches in Fresno county is that owned by R. A. Hewitt at Easton. Hewitt has been in the hog business for twenty years and at present has 150 hogs ranging from 3 months to 2 1/2 years old.

Five sacks of lady bird beetles were "planted" recently by A. D. Goodwin of Manteca, San Joaquin county in his bean field, for the purpose of combating aphids, which this year have shown a marked tendency to destroy his bean plants.

Golden State News of Interest to All

New pumping equipment has been installed on five Wasco and Shafter ranches.

Checking up on early produce sent to market from the Delano district is a pleasant task, as the crops have been bountiful.

Glenn county starts the new fiscal year with a balance of $263,471. This was revealed in the annual report of Ed S. Ball, city treasurer.

Enthusiasm for the fourth western Sonoma-Marion county dairy show to be held at Valley Ford is increasing, according to the committee.

The Suisun board of trustees donated to the Reams Post, American Legion, a lot upon which the Legion is expected to build a new hall.

Preliminary surveys indicate that San Joaquin county will exceed by $5,000,000 its agricultural production of 1925, which amounted to $60,000,000.

With eight new members added during the past month, the recruiting program of Company A, 184th Infantry, at Merced, has been favorably cited.

Postal receipts at the Delano office for the year ending June 30 were 52 per cent greater than for the same quarter last year, according to the postmaster.

The fifth annual institute of public health nurses of California opened at the university of California recently with nearly 100 nurses from all parts of the state in attendance.

Arrests in Modesto for the fiscal year 1925-26 total 742 compared to 514 for the previous twelve months. This was revealed in a report submitted to Mayor Sol P. Elias by Chief of Police Lee Smith.

In order that State Boy Scout leaders may be better able to organize and instruct their troops, the University of California is now giving a course in Scout Leadership at the regular summer session.

Sacramento is declared to have a water supply ranking in cost and purity among the foremost of all cities in the nation in a bulletin issued recently by Dr. W. W. Cross, Sacramento health officer.

Company G, 184th Infantry, of Chico of which John D. Hubbard is captain, is second on the honor list of twenty-three companies with a percentage of 94.77. The first place was given to the detachment in Petaluma.

The Faculty Club of Davis, an organization composed of officers and teachers at the College of Agriculture of the University of California, has filed articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state.

By pounding up the old adobe bricks of the missions of Lower California and dissolving them in water, Professor G. W. Hendry of the Division of Agronomy of the University of California College of Agriculture has been able to push agricultural history back to the year 1697, to tell what crops were grown by the padres.

Indicating growth of Sacramento during the last twelve months, City Assessor C. W. Mier announces a $5,576,895 increase in assessed value of property on the 1926-1927 assessment rolls just completed. The total assessed value of property in Sacramento, including operative property, is $112,571,095.

P. B. Cross of San Francisco, who holds a permit for the diversion of 150 second feet from Deer Creek, Tehama county, for the manufacture of power, has made application to the state division of water rights for additional rights on the same stream involving the diversion of 150 second feet more and the storage of 12,000 acre feet per annum.

Who has the oldest plough in Marin county? There is going to be an exhibit at the state fair this year of old farm machinery, and Marin county being one of the first agricultural sections to be developed in California, is going to enter with an exhibit. The oldest plough in good condition after the fair will be put into the farm mechanics' museum at the University farm.

California ranks as one of the largest nursery stock producing states in the Union, according to figures being compiled by the California department of Agriculture. While the compiled data is not yet ready for publication, the records show that there are over 1,523 nurserymen in this state having plantings of deciduous, citrus and ornamental stock in an excess of 3,792 acres.

At a meeting of the Modoc county board of supervisors at Alturas, recently the board appropriated $1,000 to be used in coyote control work in co-operation with the state and federal government. This appropriation is matched by an equal amount raised by the Modoc county sheepmen themselves by an assessment levy and the state and federal authorities will match the funds raised locally.

Mr. H. C. Smith, Editor, Interurban Press, Campbell, Calif.

Dear Mr. Smith:

Will you please convey to the citizens of your community through the columns of the Press, our very sincere thanks for the wonderful response made to the request for cars incident to the entertainment of the N. E. A. last Thursday, July 15th? Due to the civic spirit so practically manifested we were enabled to show our valley to these men and women comfortably and pleasantly. It was the finest response I have ever seen, and it left an impression with our visitors that will never be forgotten by them. It was regrettable that a considerable number of the delegates had to return to San Francisco, so that fewer cars were needed than we had anticipated, resulting in some of our home folks not having the pleasure of using their cars, but this disappointment should be forgotten in consideration of the fact that having more cars than could be utilized was a revelation to the visitors and an incident that contributed largely to the success of the entertainment. On every hand we heard expressions of surprise and pleasure at the beauty of Santa Clara Valley and the hospitality of its residents.

We desire, also, on behalf of Santa Clara County Consolidated and the entire county, to express to you personally our deep appreciation of your active cooperation in giving publicity in your newspaper to the coming of this large and influential body of editors to our valley and to the program for their reception and entertainment.

Yours very truly,
Wendell C. Thomas, Pres.
Santa Clara County Consolidated.

New England Society
To Picnic July 29

The next regular meeting of the New England Society will be held in Memorial Park, Los Gatos, July 29, Thursday. It will be a basket picnic—bring your own plate and cup. Coffee will be furnished. All New England people and their friends are cordially invited. New York people are expected.

Mr. B. W. Harrington is Chairman of the committee and has a very fine program arranged.

Annie L. Fairfield, Sec.

KIWANIANS HEAR KALAS

The Kiwanians and visitors enjoyed a most delightful treat Wednesday when Mr. Jan Kalas, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Bozena Kalas, at the piano played two cello numbers, "Evening Song" his own composition and "Tarantelle" by Popper. Their music was greatly appreciated and it is hoped they may be heard again at not too distant date.

Percy Dunlap wielded the gavel in a masterly manner and many a man paid therefor.

Secretary Farley gave a good talk on "Cooperation" touching on the various sorts of cooperation as practiced on the street today. He urged a closer and more active application of the term in the furtherance of the welfare and growth of our community.

Hal Morton acted as Chorister in the absence of Hal Tuttle.

Ralston Alison will talk of "Fish and Fishing" next week and some real fish stories are expected to develop during the hour.

LODGE BAND CONCERT HERE WED. EVENING

The 20th District Odd Fellows band composed of musicians from the lodges in San Jose, Campbell and Los Gatos will give a public concert on the High School grounds Wednesday evening, July 28th. A very fine program has been arranged which will open promptly at eight o'clock. Under the direction of Bandmaster Ed Towner this organization has acquired an enviable reputation and their services are much sought after. Several times this organization has broadcast programs from the leading stations of the Bay District and hundreds of congratulatory letters have been received from music lovers from all over the North American continent. Morning Light Lodge of Campbell has completed the plans for this entertainment and anticipates a large and enthusiastic attendance. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to the present.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

The Stanley B. Smith home was the scene of a delightful family birthday party Tuesday evening. July is the birth month of five members of the Smith family, four of whom were at the party. They were present:

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Smith of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith of Palo Alto, Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding and children of Los Angeles, Mrs. Ellen R. Smith, Mrs. Lillian Voge and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smith, of Campbell.

A beautiful birthday cake in pyramid form adorned the table, the smallest top layer bearing one candle in honor of the youngest members birthday.

A notable success in rabbit raising is being achieved in the state land settlement at Delhi, by F. R. Engle, who from a modest start with 150 does has developed an interesting venture with New Zealand Reds, a fine meat animal. His market has been developed in the San Francisco Bay region.

Plans for the 1927 Summer Session of the University of California are already under way. Dr. Henry H. Dixon, D. S. F. S., professor of Botany at the University of Dublin, Ireland, has just accepted an invitation to lecture in Berkeley.

The Novato fair opens at Novato on August 20. The poultry committee of the fair is planning to make the poultry show the finest White Leghorn utility show on the coast. Already the owners of fine stock are planning to enter.

Humans and insects face a death grapple, with the conditions of warfare favoring the insects, Dr. L. O. Howard, chief of the bureau of entomology, United States department of agriculture, told the tenth annual convention of the Pacific division, American Association for the Advancement of Science.

NATIONAL EDITORS DELIGHTED WITH COUNTY SIGHTS AND HOSPITALITY

Treated to Valley's Choice Fruits on Tour

The National Editorial excursion through "the valley of hearts delight" was a delightful success both from the point of pleasure and enjoyment to the visitors and in extent to advertising. Automobiles provided by the public spirited citizens through the management of the Consolidated met the scribes and their families at Palo Alto where a picnic dinner was served under the oaks just south of the Stanford stadium.

The auto trip took the visitors through Palo Alto, Los Altos, Mountain View, Sunnyvale, Santa Clara, Campbell, Los Gatos, Saratoga and San Jose. At Mountain View baskets of choice apricots from the precooling plant were given the visitors, while at Sunnyvale the Libby plant presented complimentary cans of jam. The Pratt-Low Canney at Santa Clara was visited during a busy hour while they were packing several varieties of fruit. The party was ushered into the Company's cafeteria where chilled fruit salad was served. Campbell Chamber of Commerce furnished baskets of delicious peaches which were given out by the boy scouts in charge of Chas. Shumway. Los Gatos boosters treated the party to a much appreciated drink of lemonade and Saratoga gave a large peach to each one.

The finishing touch for the day of pleasure was the banquet at the Vendome hotel. This dinner was unique in that from the soup through the dessert and mints California products were served.

Wendell Thomas, president of the Consolidated acted as Toastmaster and gave a short declaration of welcome wishing our guests as much pleasure in being entertained as we were having in entertaining. He later thanked all who had so willingly helped to make the occasion such a success. Especially did he thank the Consolidated committee, Will Denhart of Los Altos, S. N. Hedegard of Campbell, Bernice Downing of Santa Clara and Ed Smiley of Los Gatos; the drivers of autos, the traffic squad, Flower Lovers Club, Santa Clara County Press Association, League of Pen Women, State Automobile Association and University of Santa Clara.

Among those who so enthusiastically helped to make the day such a big success by using their autos were: Mrs. J. C. Ainsley, Mrs. Gordon Ainsley, L. M. Beall, T. A. Cutting, G. E. Farley, F. C. Farr, S. N. Hedegard, Mrs. R. H. Hyde, Mrs. L. S. Miller, M. E. Purmort and F. T. Rego. H. C. Smith accompanied L. M. Beall on the trip.

Herman Roe, of Northfield, Minn., the newly elected president of the N. E. A. in the following words paid California a high tribute.

"California, the hundred per cent state—with its fruitful and fragrant citrus belt, its busy and attractive cities, its majestic and inspiring mountains, its reclaimed gardens of the Imperial valley, its treasures of black as well as yellow gold deposited in its hills and valleys, its excellent ocean harbors providing an outlet for its products from farm and factory to the markets of the world, its health-giving and salubrious

CAMPBELL AS A HEALTH CENTER

J. H. Maucher of San Francisco who operated the Orchard City Bakery before its purchase by E. G. Ainsley is in Campbell this week. Mr. Maucher suggests that some enterprising individual erect a sanitarium in Campbell as he finds this the best place to come to benefit his rheumatism and comes here once or twice a year to "limber up."

climate, its enterprising and hospitable citizenry—is truly the wonderland of the United States.

"The hundreds of newspaper publishers from 40 states who have attended the 41st annual convention of the National Editorial association find the lure of the Golden West irresistible. Thanks to the foresight and skillful planning of your communities and organizations, we have gained new and clear impressions of California. When we return to our homes and offices we shall recall the wonders that have been unfolded before us, but, above all, we will remember the generous hospitality and the companionship of our new friends.

"The visiting editors from other states have sensed something of the ardent spirit of Californians. This has doubled our pleasure, for in learning to see those familiar with it can see, we not only perceive far more than we would unaided, but we enjoy it far more, with the affection of a friend added to the delight of an enthusiast. Our organization has travelled extensively during the past 41 years but it remained for California to crown all our wishes with true fellowship and unbounded hospitality.

California 100 Per Cent

"You have spread before our feet the Pandora box of treasure with which a kind providence has so generously blessed you. In accepting your hospitality we cheerfully admit that California is calling us with the same compelling appeal which has attracted so many of our former neighbors to a permanent residence in your possession of all that man may wish for here below that contributes to a contented and ideal existence.

"California has had a great past; it is enjoying a throbbing, dynamic present, and the future is prophetic of still greater things in store for this rich empire.

"California—the 100 per cent state—the members of the fourth estate salute you!

It was quite generally remarked by the visiting editors that their visit in Santa Clara valley was one of the most enjoyable and educational of their whole itinerary.

Campbell's $180,000.00 new grammar school was a wonderful example of progress and elicited much praise from the visitors.

Minnesota walked off with the bulk of honors, President, Secretary and two prizes for quality newspaper and editorial page.

Many of the Editors were interested in this county's Consolidated organization and were delighted with the wonderful results obtained and the spirit of good fellowship that prevailed.

The keynote of the day's entertainment as the visitors viewed it was the most remarkable spirit of co-operation. Many inquired into the working plan by which such a spirit was developed.

President Thomas of the Consolidated was one busy man and handled his corps of assistants in a most efficient manner.

A member of the Editorial party stated that they had seen but two intoxicated men while in California. They had been told that enforcement was at a practical standstill here but the evidence was to the contrary. In one middle west city it was a common thing to see several intoxicated men daily and they were well pleased with the revelation of conditions in California.

INDIAN ENEMY TRIBES TO COMPETE IN RODEO

Two Indian tribes, traditional enemies for many decades, will smoke the pipe of peace this month, when they meet in friendly competition at an Indian field meet in Yosemite Valley, according to F. S. McGinnis, passenger traffic manager for Southern Pacific.

The tribes are the Monos of Nevada and the Yosemite of California. Together with white cowboys they will compete in rodeo stunts at the annual Indian Field Days celebration, July 30 and 31.

A pageant depicting the early Indian history of Yosemite Valley and its discovery by the white man will follow on August 1. Presented in Royal Arch Meadows in the heart of the Valley, the pageant will be directed by Garnet Holme, widely known pageant master of California.

Special rail service to care for the crowds that will flock to Yosemite for this event from all parts of California is being arranged by Southern Pacific. Hotels and camps are making advance reservations and there will be no lack of accommodations for visitors.

Three hundred thousand trout fry will be placed in Don Pedro reservoir near Modesto, this month by the state.

New danger to fruit men of the state was seen in the discovery of a queer animal resembling a cat, but equipped with wings, by ranchers Arthur Kingray of Topenish and Wapato, Washington. Professor Joseph Grinnell of the University of California museum of vertebrate zoology, said that if the report was well-founded, the animal was probably a "flying fox," a large member of the bat family found in Asia noted for its destructive work in fruit orchards. Although rigidly excluded by United States customs officials, Dr. Grinnell says that with the entrance of the one animal fruit growers should take immediate steps for its extermination.

Stanford Has New Gallery Display

A collection of pastel sketches by Miss Jane Rhenstrand director of art at the state normal school of Superior, Wisconsin, is being shown at the Stanford Art Gallery.

These sketches have been made in the open during the last year and are direct impressions of north eastern landscapes around Lake Superior. The subjects have been made during different times of the year and shown the green spring coloring and birches of the east, views of the brilliant fire-color autumnal foliage, and also the winter covered landscapes.

The subjects have been taken from around Bayfield, Duluth, Superior, and other sections in Northern Wisconsin, while a few sketched in Isle Royale, Michigan at the head of Lake Superior.

Miss Rhenstrand is well known for her outdoor sketches made in this country and in Europe, and is at present in California sketching material for exhibition in the East. The artist is identified prominently with art education in her state and is a member of prominent art organizations, giving her attention especially to the training of art teachers for school work.

The collection of sketches by Miss Rhenstrand show a versatility of methods, a sureness of medium, and present to those who view this fine group of sketches a pleasant hour of changing views of beautiful landscape.

The exhibition will be shown during the rest of July and the gallery is open everyday from 10 until 5 o'clock. No admission charge is made.

Press dispatches telling of John D. Rockefeller celebrating his 87th birthday kindled interesting memories of the oil magnate and philanthropist in the mind of Mrs. Mary Tomanek of Porterville. Mrs. Tomanek proudly displays a one cent piece of the mintage of 1853, given her by Rockefeller on the occasion of her 10th birthday, February 2, 1863. Having been sent by her father to the Rockefeller oil plant to secure some crude oil, recommended by a friend as a remedy for rheumatism from which her father was suffering, little Marie tripped along in such lively spirits on the cold winter day that Rockefeller, then 24, and just starting in the oil business, inquired the reason of her happiness. Told by the little girl it was her birthday, he opened his purse and finding a penny made in the year of her birth, 1853, he gave it to her, all these years this penny, larger than a quarter dollar, has been kept as a lucky coin by Mrs. Tomanek.

Both Visalia peach canneries have started on a run which, their respective superintendents hope, will be marked with record packs. The pack will continue until the last of August with prospects of the warehouses being filled to overflowing before that time is reached if shipments of orders do not help out.

More than 100 citizens, principally orchard owners, of Auburn, flooded the board of equalization rooms recently to protest increased assessments. Tax factors employed by the board recently added $2,000,000 of assessable property to the rolls.

Kern county grape growers were warned not to ship too many Thompson seedless and Muscat grapes this season, when H. W. Mellen, chairman of the fresh fruit committee of the Kern county farm bureau declared during a recent meeting of the bureau that the capacity of eastern markets is at best not greater than 75,000 cars this year. Mellen said, however, that the raisin markets are better this season than they have been for the past five or six years, and asked that all directors of the farm bureau carry to their respective districts the suggestion that growers do a great deal of drying this year.

WHOLESALE BANDITRY

Three bank robberies in one afternoon in Los Angeles, Hollywood and Pasadena, respectively, with a combined loot of $14,800 and the bandits call it a day. But the police say all the jobs were not done by the same parties. Even so, it may have been the work of several members of Bandits, Inc., or some other lawless outfit. The problem confronting the nation is not only crime, but organized criminality.

SUMMER TONIC FOR BUSINESS

Barring calamity, disaster or direful slump, BUSINESS generally is good.

There is plenty of BUSINESS for the fellow who goes after it.

The trouble about BUSINESS is, we don't all go after it.

The reason BUSINESS is not easy to get is because it is not so easy to think that it is easy to get.

In itself, BUSINESS is abstract and visionary; to be concrete it must be created, nurtured, watched and maintained.

The will to do must join hands with physical and mental effort, and the result is BUSINESS.

Rice men of Woodland, Yolo county, are quite distressed over the continued cool nights of the past two weeks. Hot days and warm nights are essential, it is claimed to mature at an early date 22,000 acres of rice in various sections of Yolo county. The days have been excellent, but cool nights have caused irrigation water to become chilly, retarding the night growth of the important product of the grain fields of Yolo county.

Harvesting Santa Barbara county's 7,500-acre sugar beet crop will start late in August, the Union Sugar company's factory at Betteravia, opening for the fall run on September 1. The acreage in beets includes 4,800 acres in Santa Maria valley, the remainder of the acreage being divided between the Lompoc and Los Alamos districts. Tests of the beets shows the sugar contents running high this season.

The first distillation of mint from the Woodville district plantings has begun. Last year the mint industry was started as an experiment and this season several ranchers have plots in the crop. It is not grown here for confectionery flavorings, but for medicinal purposes only, the oil being high in menthol, used in the manufacture of cough drops, ointments and other preparations.

American foulbrood, the bee disease that annually causes great losses to beekeepers has been studied by G. H. Vansell, entomologist and agriculturist of the University of California Agricultural experiment station at Davis. In Circular No. 307, which may be obtained free from the College of Agriculture at Berkeley, methods for the treatment of this disease are given.

Redding, Shasta county, apparently is one American city where the girls have no longing to be movie queens. Miss Adair Abernathy, pretty 14-year-old high school girl of that city, has been offered a year's contract at $15 a day and all expenses by a Hollywood film company. And she's turned down the offer to go to school.

The evaporated apple market has started with vim. All the driers in the Sebastopol district, Sonoma county, are in operation and buyers are in the field contracting for cash deliveries. The prices range from 8 1/4 cents per pound for sliced stock to 10 1/4 cents for quarters.

Demonstrations for developing English walnut trees and caring for young trees were given by W. H. Hooper, University of California walnut specialist, on two ranches in the vicinity of Concord a short time ago.

The Manteca Canning company at Manteca has started its peach pack. The pack, officials believe, will be large. The cannery will operate until late in the fall if the belief that the tomato pack to follow the peach season will be large also proves true.

The potato crop at Redlands, has been almost a failure this year, due to the heavy rains which packed the ground in the spring. A. E. Harvey, who planted twenty acres, will get only about 800 sacks in place of the 3000 he expected.

President W. W. Campbell of the University of California is determined in favor of compulsory military training. He has just issued a statement to the press that despite opinions published by government officials and others recently, he does not believe that compulsory military training as now given in universities engenders a desire for war in the hearts of the younger generation. In his opinion it merely prepares the nation for any unfortunate crisis that may arise.

Schools to teach parenthood are the latest idea in education in a proposal made by Alma Binzel, noted authority on child training who is lecturing at the University of California summer session. Miss Binzel maintains that many of our juvenile problems are really adult problems in that the parents of children are not capable of raising them properly, and that society has made no provisions more fitting parents to do so.

Putting Off Protection

In California the Spanish word "manana" is employed to express postponement. It means "tomorrow," and expresses the attitude of some persons about renting a safe deposit box. Meanwhile, their valuable papers are inviting destruction or theft. For a small sum a fire-proof and burglar-proof safe deposit box may be rented in almost any office of the Mercantile Trust Company of California. The "manana" habit is dangerous.

A new assortment of birthday greeting cards for special relatives at Smith's.

Miss Jessie Lewis went to Santa Cruz Monday to spend two weeks with friends.

Vernon Miller has returned from Yosemite Valley where he had spent several weeks.

Miss Mabel West of Bakersfield arrived this week for a visit with her friend, Mrs. Olga Weiss.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Stray who have been here for several weeks are now visiting in Los Angeles.

Sgt. and Mrs. W. I. Moore of Vancouver, Wash., arrived Tuesday and are guests of J. A. Moore and family.

Mrs. M. B. Jenkins went to Oakland today to spend a week or more with friends there in San Francisco.

Mrs. Emily Gard, who had been enjoying a vacation in Los Angeles returned Friday and has resumed her music work.

Rev. R. B. Hummell went to Hollywood yesterday to spend the week at the Presbyterian Synod in session there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ohlen who left recently on a business trip to Utah, are also enjoying the beauties of Yellowstone Park.

G. E. Farley, C. G. Kennedy, Harry Lohr, and W. W. Saint of San Francisco went to Waddell Creek yesterday on a fishing trip.

Mrs. Sarah Shephard, sister-in-law of Mrs. Lena Rodeck, and her two daughters, of Haywards were Saturday to Monday guests of Mrs. Rodeck and Miss Mary.

Ralston Alison writes that swimming and sunbath along the Russian river are fine but fishing "bum." On Tuesday they had journeyed to Eureka through the beautiful redwoods.

Word received the first of the week from the D. H. Cramer family noted that they had moved to Huntington Lake and were recovering from the extreme heat of the valley near Fresno.

Merchant Carl B. Field has purchased the large H. N. Hansen home on Alice Avenue and will move his family early in September when Mr. Hansen will move his family to Watsonville or Hollister.

Dad and Mrs. W. D. Sturtevant arrived home Tuesday evening after a most enjoyable vacation trip to Yellowstone Park. Dad drove over 4000 miles with a minimum of trouble and reports the best fishing he ever had experienced.

Cloyd Barker, who was very ill with pneumonia following an accident before the close of school is able to be out again and is receiving the congratulations of his friends on his recovery as this was his second attack of the same dread disease within a few years.

Harry Hummel of Mexico arrived last week and is visiting his cousin R. B. Hummell and family. This is their first reunion in thirty-nine years and they are finding much to talk about. He and John Hummel spent the week end in Yosemite, making an unexpected trip.

A. E. Sargent of Hamilton Ave. father of Mrs. Geo. Parso celebrated his birthday anniversary Saturday. No one seeing Mr. Sargent making his almost daily trip into Campbell and stepping along so briskly would suppose that he was "ninety years old." Congratulations and best wishes for many happy returns of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Spaulding arrived Monday evening on the homeward lap of an automobile trip which will have covered about 3800 miles when they reach their home in Los Angeles. They have been north into Canada and seen a great deal of territory. While here they visited Mrs. Spaulding's mother, Mrs. Ellen R. Smith.

ROBERT A. HOLMES

The Death Saturday morning of Robert A. Holmes was a sad shock to his wide circle of friends many of whom had not known that he had been contemplating an operation, which was performed a few days previous to his death.

Mr. Holmes had been suffering for some time from appendicitis and on Monday underwent an operation, but physicians were very doubtful from the first as gangrene had already developed.

Robert A. Holmes, son of Mrs. Lydia Holmes and the late R. L. Holmes, was born in Loomis, Placer County, Feb. 13, 1883. He came to Campbell as a boy and this has been his home practically all of the time since, until two years ago when he acquired a ranch in Cupertino where the family is now residing.

His marriage to Miss Lottie Brown was solemnized in Campbell by the Rev. Harry Hazel of San Jose and four children have gladdened their home, Robert, Spencer, Bernard and Betty, all of whom are living.

Other surviving relatives are his mother, and brother, Harvey, living in Campbell and two sisters, Mrs. C. L. Shepherd and Mrs. Loren Godwin of Watsonville.

Mr. Holmes has followed fruit work in various lines most of his life. For a time he conducted a dryer of his own on Leigh Ave., but for several years has been with the Geo. E. Hyde and Co., plant, where he was foreman of the canning department.

"Bob" as he was always called, was universally liked and respected. A quiet unassuming man, he had a winning way that made friends of all his acquaintances and co-workers, and in his home he was a devoted husband and father.

Masonic funeral services were held Monday morning from the Funeral Home of Curry and Grip-entrav, under the auspices of Charity Lodge of Campbell of which he was a member, and interment was made at Santa Clara cemetery. George Whitney, S. R. Squibb, Geo. Robson, E. E. Sower, John Peterson of Campbell, and E. C. Maas of Cupertino, served as pall bearers.

Sincere sympathy is extended his bereaved family as the community mourns the loss of a good citizen.

William and Herbert Duncan of Colorado Springs, Colo., are here visiting their relatives the J. F. Duncan family. Several years ago the boys lived here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Duncan and still have a number of friends among the younger generation.

The Conn Juvenile Band, under the management of Mrs. Ray Olmstead, will play a short program at the Campbell theater Tuesday evening. A song and dance number will also be given. Several Campbell children are in this organization and it will be a treat to hear these children play.

Road work is in progress on the Imperial valley-Jullian highway which connects with the state highway at Kane Springs a few miles west of Westmoreland. According to the supervisors of Imperial county, permanent work is to be done in grading and leveling with some graveling, to the San Diego county line and the road is to be ready for traffic sometime in the latter part of May.

Thomas M. Gannon, state legislative counsel, announced the new supplement to the index of the laws of California, is just off the press and is ready for distribution. The book, to be distributed by the state printer at a nominal cost, contains a complete index to all the laws enacted at the last three sessions of the legislature and tables of amendments.

What is declared to be the biggest day's logging in the history of California was recorded at Central Camp, when the Sugar Pine Lumber company yarded and loaded 101 cars in one day. The company now is 5,000,000 ahead of last year's record, with a goal of 120,000,000 set for the season.

With flood waters in the cloudburst areas north of Bakersfield and east of Taft rapidly subsiding, Kern county is taking stock of the damage, which will amount to more than $1,000,000. Already the task of repairing roads and property damaged by the tearing waters has been begun.

Standing as a concrete expression of the confidence of Bakersfield citizens in the future of their city, the community hotel, known officially as Hotel El Tejon, erected at a cost of approximately $600,000, was thrown open a short time ago, to the inspection of the public.

It is estimated that the apricots from 3,500 acres in Kings county will amount to 18,000 tons this year. About 15,000 tons will be dried, probably, the canneries will put up about 2,500 tons, and the fresh fruit shipments will amount to around 500 tons.

Watermelons in Imperial Valley are reported to be in excellent condition, in the truck crop report issued on June 19, by the state department of agriculture. The crop is placed at about 95 per cent of normal. The output is estimated at close to 4,000 cars.

The State Highway Commission met in San Francisco a short time ago, to consider the awarding of two road-building contracts which will involve an expenditure of nearly $100,000. One of the projects entails construction of a 210-foot reinforced concrete girder bridge over Reeds Creek at Red Bluff, Tehama county, on the Pacific highway. The other will cover grading and surfacing of 9.5 miles of road between Black Rock and Blythe, in Riverside county, on the Mecca-Blythe highway.

Dr. John C. Merriam, president of the Carnegie Institute of Washington D. C., one of the many former residents of California who have been called east during the past few years to fill positions of great responsibility, is visiting at the University of California this month. He still holds the position of honorary curator of the university museum of paleontology, and will make the campus his headquarters while inspecting a number of research projects financed by the Carnegie foundation.

Nowhere else in the United States is hydro electric power so abundant, so cheap and so commonly used as in California.

Hydro electric power is abundant in California because nature has given us mountains and rivers of falling water.

It is cheap and commonly used because the inventions and economies of the power companies, coupled with State regulation of rates and service, have made it available for factory, home and farm.

Rates in California are low.

Service is a model for the rest of the United States.

Since 1913 the average per capita cost of living increased 65%, while the average cost of electricity decreased 8%.

WHY GOVERNMENT PRICE FIXING WON'T WORK

One of the most persistent fallacies is government price-fixing on competitive commodities. There is already government price-fixing in commodities and services where competition plays no part in price determination. These are railway transportation, electricity, gas, telephone and telegraph, and so on. Here government price-fixing is solely to protect the consumer. There are two fatal objections to government price-fixing for agricultural products, which represent the most competitive business in the world. These are, first, that it will not work; second, that it is always done for the consumer as against the producer.

Government price-fixing for agricultural products would work if at the same time the government regulated wages, profits, middlemen's margins, the production of all commodities and the rationing of all consumers. In short, if the population were enlisted in one vast army, directed and rationed, price-fixing would work, but otherwise not. If the price is fixed on the wheat the farmer sells, then he cannot keep on producing wheat if wages or the cost of harvesting machinery rise, or if the cost of other material he buys rises. So the next step would be the fixation of other prices, and yet other prices.

The United States government fixed the price of wheat but once in our history, and then it was to benefit consumers, not producers. The government might, in an emergency, fix some agricultural prices for the purpose of elevating such prices. Such action would inevitably and speedily lead to outcry from city consumers and a consequent reversal of policy. Indeed, the consumers, not the producers, are most likely to demand and secure food price regulation by government authorities. The farmer, therefore, who favors any form of governmental price-fixing is working against his own interests. He is putting his head into a noose.—James E. Boyle, Professor of Rural Economics, Cornell University, in the Banker-Farmer.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

On Fifteen Per Cent Bonds

Mrs. Norris beamed as she greeted Aunt Emmy and exclaimed, "Now I know all my financial worries are over! I wanted to tell you right away."

"What have you bought this time?" Aunt Emmy demanded suspiciously.

"Well, I haven't paid the money over yet, but I have found the loveliest investment where my money will be perfectly safe and will earn a nice income for me right away," Mrs. Norris said. "I'm going to buy bonds, good safe bonds, that will pay me fifteen per cent interest."

"Wait a minute, you'll have to go some, Maud Norris, to tell me about 'good safe bonds' that pay fifteen per cent!" Aunt Emmy broke in.

"They are safe," the man said so and this booklet says so too!"

"Do you know what a bond is?" asked Aunt Emmy.

"No, but it's awfully safe. I'm sure of that," Mrs. Norris said. "Everybody knows that bonds are safe."

"My dear, some bonds are safe and some are not. When you buy a bond you simply lend your money to the company putting out the bonds. Bond issues are secured generally by the company mortgaging or pledging some of its property. In other words, it offers a certain asset as security that it will return your money to you on the date the bond matures. It agrees to pay you a certain sum each year for the use of your money, usually something between five and eight per cent. No company can afford to pay too much for its money—and as to fifteen per cent bonds—why it would be very unusual for a company to be able to earn enough to enable it to pay fifteen per cent for the privilege of using other people's money—moreover, if it is good enough to borrow money at all it can borrow it more cheaply than that!"

"Oh dear!" wailed Mrs. Norris, "then a bond isn't a good safe investment!"

"Don't jump at conclusions so fast!" said Aunt Emmy. "I did not say that. A bond is as safe as a church if the company that issues it is financially sound, has a high credit rating and is making money. Before you buy bonds assure yourself that the company behind them is above reproach."

"But the man who told me about these fifteen per cent bonds was so earnest—I felt sure I could believe him."

"Don't turn over any money to him until you have some advice on the bonds from your bank," admonished Aunt Emmy. "Then, if you find out that the bonds are questionable you will escape another bad investment."

—A. B. Ayres.

Mason County, Michigan, bankers are pushing hard to replace scrub stock with pure-bred cattle. The plan as outlined by the county agent is to purchase young pure-bred sires and place them wherever a farmer is found who is willing to co-operate in the proposition. The bankers will advance the purchase price and take a note for one year without interest. The idea is to make it as easy as possible for the farmers to procure thoroughbreds.

A Smile in Every Mile

By O. Lawrence Hawthorne

Life is such a pleasant journey, after all! There are joyful moments all along the way, When the melody of friendship's happy call Bids us contemplate the beauties of the day.

It may be that storms will gather, but we know That the sun has never failed to shine again; And I like to feel that everywhere we go We can make life brighter for our fellow men.

There's a smile in every mile for everyone! There's a cheerful dawn behind the darkest night; If we find a friendly way to share our fun, Each new day will bring its measures of delight.

FIRST YEAR IMPRESSIONS

Of the School of Religion

June 1, 1926.

Dear Campbell Friends:

As I think over our first year at the School of Religion, situated so ideally between the lovely blue waters of the Aegean and the noble ruins of the Parthenon crowning the Acropolis, and so near to the heart of the "Glory that is Greece," a host of inspiring recollections come crowding into my mind.

I think of that first thrilling day when we arrived at Pireaus a day ahead of time, and amid the shouts of competing boatmen, picked out our boat and were safely rowed to shore where for the first time we set foot on Greek soil. Of how we were taken by mistake to the American College, and how Miss McCallum piloted us over to our own school. And of the royal reception by the students at the School and then by Pres. and Mrs. Pye and their boys, who took us into their most hospitable home and made us at home in a strange land for a whole two weeks while we got acclimated to a new world. Never can I forget the spell of the Acropolis as we looked at it those first impressionable days gazing at it through the mystical haze of the hot October mornings and afternoon and nights.

Whether it is true or not, I shall always feel that great citadel with its teeming memories of great living and high thinking, its seen at its best at that season of the year.

Then came the growing acquaintance with the students, and the great inspiration of learning how they had come up out of great suffering into the fine manhood and womanhood which they had achieved and were here to develop still further. And the growing acquaintance with the faculty, and all the missionary force, and all the workers in the Camps, and the wide circle of friends throughout the city.

And how many memorable events of the year. One of the happiest was the Thanksgiving Day celebration when forty of us sat down to Thanksgiving dinner in the long dining room of the School boarders, women students, married students, faculty, children and babies. And the toasts in thirteen languages.

Then Christmas, with its double celebration Western and Eastern, a merry round of festivities and programs lasting for more than a week, in Schools, and faculty homes, and camps, with much hard work for the happiness of others on the part of all the student body.

Two of the most interesting celebrations of the year, to me, were Vartan's day when we heard from Armenian students and Prof. Levonian of the heroic life and achievements of the Armenian national here, and of their ideals for their people; and the Greek Independence Day when Greek students spoke of Greek achievements and of their ideals for their nation.

Our latest celebration was that of Easter, which in this part of the world fell on May second this year. Lent is a serious season here, devout members of the orthodox churches fasting from meat and eggs and milk throughout the six weeks. Passion Week is one of great solemnity, the churches being thronged, on some days till late into the evening. This is especially true of Saturday night, when the service continues till after midnight, and closes with an Easter morning service of great joy and much beauty. Easter day is one of quiet rejoicing and feasting, and Monday and Tuesday are days of much gaiety, with many calls on friends. Among the Protestant churches in the camps, the celebration is much like that in America, with special services during Passion Week, and the reception of new members at the Easter services.

Apple and pear orchards in the Victorville district, are making a good showing, being generally set heavily to fruit which promises to be of good quality. There will be an abundant crop of Hale peaches. Buyers from Los Angeles commission houses are on the ground bargaining for the crop of apples and peaches. Apple Valley has the distinction of having furnished the first Jonathan apples last year, and they sold at $200 per ton, being highly colored. The first Delicious brought similar prices and Hale peaches were sold at $120 per ton. The pears were graded the same and sold for the same price as Little Rock pears. The prices are expected to range high this year, regardless of what is paid elsewhere for the fruit here has a good sugar content and will stand shipping well. Most of the early fruit will be sold as fancy grades, it is anticipated.

To deal with the problem of soil liming, a series of experiments have been conducted by P. L. Hubbard, associate chemist in the experiment station of the University of California College of Agriculture. Copies of the report may be obtained by writing to the University of California at Berkeley for Circular 305, which deals with all questions of liming, from which soils need lime to where the best and cheapest lime can be obtained.
